Will you work towards a fair world?

How will you ensure sustainable development where everyone benefits without this resulting in the depletion of the earth? During your studies, you will learn how to use a practical approach to strike a balance between people, the earth and prosperity.

During your studies, you will be committed to the rebuilding of society following disasters, to building a better future for the rural population or you will contribute towards fair economic chains from raw materials to consumers. In all cases, you will learn how to bring people together in various cultural and social environments, to defend interests, and to facilitate and supervise developments and innovation.

You do not do this from behind a desk, but you seek practical situations and direct contact with people.

Degree

Upon graduation you will receive a Bachelor of Science degree. Our bachelor programmes are accredited by the Accreditation Organisation of the Netherlands and Flanders (NVAO).

Duration

4 years

Language

English

Admission

The general admission requirement is a Secondary school diploma, International Baccalaureate diploma or A-Levels which are equivalent to the Dutch HAVO diploma. It is highly recommended that your diploma has a final examination in mathematics and economics, but this is not a mandatory admission requirement. You need to prove your English proficiency by providing a certificate issued by selected language institutions (TOEFL 550/IELTS 6.0, or other equivalent certificates).

Studying in Holland

Holland is well known for being open-minded, tolerant and internationally-oriented. Study and living costs are affordable and the quality of Dutch institutions is well-recognised. Off campus you can explore the picturesque nature areas that surround our site in Velp by foot or bike. Throughout the year there are several free festivals, markets and concerts where you can hang out with your friends and meet the locals. Amsterdam, The Hague, Berlin and Paris are only a short train journey away.

"A fair price for farmers and sustainable cultivation of foods. That is what I am committed to."

Wiebe Draijer, Extension Manager at Cocoa Abrabopa in Ghana.
